[Milwaukee, Wis.] — Rebecca Kleefisch showed why she's the conservative choice for Wisconsin governor at the WISN gubernatorial primary town hall on Monday night.

“Rebecca Kleefisch has the best handle on the issues facing real Wisconsinites because she is a real Wisconsinite,” said Charles Nichols, Rebecca for Governor campaign manager. “Rebecca is the only candidate with a 100% conservative record and the only candidate who can beat Tony Evers this fall. Tim Michels’ words and actions don’t match up – Wisconsin can’t afford to take a gamble on him.”

Rebecca Kleefisch’s track record is standing up for conservative values when the going got tough:

- When 100,000 protesters tried to stop conservatives from enacting reform to balance the budget, Rebecca Kleefisch didn’t back down.
- Rebecca didn’t back down when roadbuilders ran ads trying to scare the Walker/Kleefisch administration into raising the gas tax. She stood on principle.
- While protesters came to stop right-to-work, Rebecca Kleefisch stood proudly when Scott Walker signed worker freedom into law.
