

MU Law Poll shows tight U.S. Senate, governor's races less than a week out

Posted on Friday, Nov 4, 2022

This week's Midday podcast covers Marquette University Law School Poll results in the tight U.S. Senate and governor's races. We also talk about what issues to watch for as the Nov. 8 Election Day approaches. From election conspiracy theories to losing candidates denying the results, we talk about what may come up next week.