“The Supreme Court has proven time and time again that they will defy the will of the people without issue, and NextGen America commends the work of the Senate for taking this huge step forward to defending our most basic freedoms and codifying same-sex marriage into law.

“Last Tuesday, young voters turned out at historic levels to propel Democrats in the Senate to victory, trusting in these leaders to build a better future and protect our most basic civil liberties. And today, Senate Democrats showed up for young voters and their vision for the future. Young people in this country are overwhelmingly progressive and believe all Americans should be able to love and marry who they want.

“Now we call on lawmakers in the House to advance the Respect for Marriage Act to President Biden’s desk without delay and move us closer to achieving the basic equality we are fighting tirelessly for.”
