

NFIB backs Johnson in new ad

Posted on Tuesday, Oct 18, 2022

The National Federation of Independent Business Federal PAC announced statewide radio and digital ads calling U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson a “champion for Main Street.”

A spokesperson with the PAC did not immediately respond to a request for comment on how much the group spent on the ads supporting the Oshkosh Republican.

The 30-second radio ad encourages Wisconsinites to vote for Johnson on Election Day in a time of “high inflation, worker shortages” and “supply chain disruptions.”

“As a longtime small business owner, Senator Johnson understands the challenges we face,” a voice-over says. “He’ll stand up for Main Street and make Washington work for us.”

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.