

NRSC: Badger State under the Barnes Brigade, part IV - cozying up to D.C. Democrats

Posted on Thursday, Aug 18, 2022

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

Washington, D.C. – Mandela Barnes is the Democrat candidate for Wisconsin's U.S. Senate seat and is far too liberal and out of touch with Wisconsinites for it. To prove it, we will show you just how the Badger State would look under the Barnes Brigade.

Under the Barnes Brigade, the Badger State would constantly cozy up to D.C. Democrats. Any policy changes that would affect Wisconsinites would be fully driven by D.C. Democrats. Just take a look at the company Barnes keeps close:

- Barnes is endorsed by Elizabeth Warren and he has attended campaign events with her.
- Barnes is endorsed by AOC and he gladly accepted it.
- Barnes is endorsed by Rep. Ruben Gallego who hints at a possible primary challenge against Sen. Kyrsten Sinema.
- Barnes thinks Rep. Ilhan Omar is “brilliant.”

What do all these people have in common? They are all well-known D.C. liberals who want to move the country further and further Left. Barnes wants to be one of them. He wants to make Wisconsin into a liberal state and force Biden's Far-Left agenda on Wisconsinites, which has only resulted in record gas prices, skyrocketing inflation and rising crime.

Wisconsinites don't want or deserve that.