Tony Evers today released a new TV ad featuring former President Obama urging people to vote for the Dem gov.

Evers' campaign said the spot will begin airing in the coming days. It comes ahead of Obama campaigning in Milwaukee next weekend for Dems.

The spot features Obama talking directly to the camera, asking viewers if they've made plans to vote Nov. 8 and encouraging them to cast a ballot for Evers if they "care about protecting your right to vote, protecting access to abortion, and investing in our kids' public education."

Obama declares Evers is "doing the right thing for Wisconsin" and needs voters' support.

"So don't forget, don't get too busy," Obama says to close the spot. "Make a plan, and go vote for Tony Evers by November 8th."
