

One Nation ad says Johnson fighting back against inflation

Posted on Tuesday, Jun 28, 2022

One Nation, a 501(c)(4) aligned with Senate Republicans, launched another ad praising U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson, R-Oshkosh.

The group has announced plans to spend more than $9 million praising Johnson, who is considered one of the most vulnerable incumbents in the U.S. Senate.

The spots have focused on inflation and gas prices. The latest ad features video of President Biden saying he doesn't want to "hear any more of these lies about reckless spending. We're changing people's lives!"

The narrator says "liberals in Washington" are changing peoples' lives through soaring inflation due to "reckless spending" and record-high gas prices due to cuts in U.S. energy production.

The announcer says Johnson is "fighting back" to hold Washington accountable for "its spending and waste."

"Tell Senator Johnson: keep fighting for Wisconsin families," the narrator says.
