"There's no question that everything is more expensive these days. But instead of helping bring down costs, Senator Ron Johnson is still trying to repeal the Affordable Care Act. And that would mean higher costs for folks across the Badger State," said Meghan Roh, Opportunity Wisconsin Program Director. "Hundreds of thousands of Wisconsinites would lose health coverage. Insurance companies could increase premiums on women and people over 50. And prescription drugs would get even more expensive. Senator Johnson is helping himself, while hurting us, and it's time for him to lower our health care costs, not increase them."

"Top Priority" Full Script:

Groceries, Gas, housing. . . everything's more expensive these days.

But instead of helping bring down costs, Senator Ron Johnson is still determined to repeal Obamacare . . . and that would mean higher costs for us.

Obamacare is President Obama's biggest legislative accomplishment ... and it works.

But in a recent interview, Ron Johnson said repealing Obamacare should be a top priority.

Hundreds of thousands of Wisconsinites would lose health coverage. Insurance companies could increase premiums on women and people over 50. And prescription drugs would get even more expensive.

No surprise, Ron Johnson has the backing of the health care industry ... they've given his campaign over a million dollars.

Ron Johnson is helping himself, while hurting us.

Tell Ron Johnson to lower our health care costs, not increase them.
