(MADISON, WI) – The Rape Crisis Center (RCC) is excited to announce their annual and premier fundraiser, Java Jive, will be held at Breese Stevens Field on Saturday, August 20th from 9am to noon!

Join them for a morning of community and fun with featured food and drink from some of Madison's most beloved local bakeries, coffee shops and businesses. The event will also be catered by local favorite Melly Mel's Soul Food, who will provide delicious home-cooked breakfast fare. Emceeding the event will be community organizer and socialpreneur Sabrina Madison, who will guide guests through popular local musical acts (TBA) as well as treasured Java Jive traditions like the silent auction and raffle. Follow RCC on social media to get a sneak peak of auction and raffle items as they become available!

It's crucially important to collaborate and support each other as a community in these times. All money raised during this event goes directly to supporting survivors of sexual violence with lifesaving crisis intervention services, resources, and support.

For information about sponsoring this event, donating silent auction or raffle prizes, or supporting free community education and services, contact development@thercc.org.
