Dave Mahoney, who was elected as Dane County Sheriff in 2006 and retired in 2021, has endorsed Melissa Ratcliff for Wisconsin State Assembly.

“Melissa Ratcliff is a true public servant who works tirelessly to find solutions to tough problems,” Mahoney said. “Melissa Ratcliff knows the issues and communities in District 46 because she lives there, is raising her family there, and is already representing some of the area as a County Board Supervisor. She will hit the ground running in the State Legislature. We need her voice in the Assembly. I am enthusiastically supporting her.”

“In the 12 days since we announced this campaign, the support has been overwhelming,” Ratcliff said. “It is an honor to earn former Sheriff Mahoney’s endorsement. As someone who was elected four times and served with distinction, he knows how important it is to be connected to the communities you represent. I am thrilled to have him standing with me in this campaign.”
