Washington, DC – The nonpartisan Lugar Center released their annual rankings of the most independent members of the House of Representatives and found that in the first year of the 117th Congress, Rep. Ron Kind ranked 18th in bipartisanship out of all 435 members and 1st in the Wisconsin Delegation.

“I’m proud to be consistently named one of the most independent Members of Congress,” said Rep. Ron Kind. “Wisconsinites are fed up with gridlock and division in our government and I couldn’t agree more. Working in a bipartisan manner is essential to moving our nation forward and tackling the issues facing all Americans, and I’ll keep seeking out common ground.”

Rep. Kind has been named one of the Lugar Center’s top 25 most independent members of the House of Representatives each year since 2013.
