

Senate Leadership Fund ad goes after Barnes over crime

Posted on Wednesday, Oct 26, 2022

The Senate Leadership Fund continues to hit Barnes on crime in a new ad.

The group is poised to spend $4.5 million over the last two weeks of the race, according to AdImpact.

The narrator in the spot says there were more than 300 murders last year and terror at the Waukesha Christmas parade, but “defund the police, radical Mandela Barnes” still supports eliminating cash bail.

It plays a clip of Barnes saying, “reducing prison population is now sexy.”

The narrator closes the spot, “Actually, releasing criminals isn’t sexy. It’s dangerous. Radical Mandela Barnes won’t keep your family safe.”
