MADISON – Wisconsin Safety Council – the state’s leading provider of safety training and products – announced the 28th annual Corporate Safety Award winners on Monday. There were 10 companies recognized for their dedication to prioritizing safety culture in the workplace and for maintaining exceptional safety records. These organizations’ efforts exemplify Wisconsin Safety Council’s mission to make Wisconsin the safest place to live, work and play.

“All companies in Wisconsin utilize a safety first approach, but this year’s winners went above and beyond in promoting safety and excellence,” said Wisconsin Safety Council Executive Director Aaron Huebner. “We congratulate them for earning this prestigious award and we applaud their efforts in building Wisconsin’s reputation as a national leader in workplace safety.”

The Wisconsin Corporate Safety Awards are presented in partnership with the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development and M3 Insurance.

“A focus on safety boosts the bottom line for employers while keeping our workforce healthy and strong,” said DWD Secretary-designee Amy Pechacek. “We applaud the leadership and dedication of these award winners and celebrate the model safety programs they have put in place.”

The winners were selected by an independent panel of judges who are safety, health and insurance professionals. Applicants were required to submit data about their 2021 safety records and provide information about their company’s safety and health leadership, training programs and their safety accomplishments and goals.

“M3 is proud to congratulate the winners of this year’s Corporate Safety Awards. Businesses who prioritize risk management and employee safety continue to be considered market leaders and employers of choice,” said M3 Insurance Partner Chris Halverson. “We are honored to once again sponsor this program that rewards these organizations who are committed to excellence in safety and health.”
