MADISON - Wisconsin Women in Government (WWIG), a statewide, nonpartisan, non-profit organization of professional women in and around government service, is hosting a Holiday Headshot event on Tuesday, December 6 from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Wisconsin Counties Association offices.

Registration is open to the public and can include a professional headshot taken by Sterling Ruemmler and Joseph Karns. The first 30 registrants to select the headshot option will have their photo taken at the event and will receive a digital file later. All others can attend to network and celebrate the holidays with other women working in and with government.

“This is a great social gathering that includes an option for an affordable professional headshot,” said WWIG president Audra Cohen-Plata. “This has been a hugely successful event in the past, and we are happy to bring it back to the WWIG community.”

Registration is now open HERE for $35 with a headshot or $15 without. Photography slots are limited, so register early to ensure availability.

This event is possible thanks to the ongoing support of the Wisconsin Counties Association.
