Milwaukee, WI - February 8, 2023 — The Greater Brookfield Chamber of Commerce (GBCC) is launching a quarterly Speakers Forum on February 24, 2023, 8:15 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., featuring experts in areas of business, economic development, government, etc. The Speakers Forum will be presented quarterly during the year on the second month of each quarter.

Carol White, president & CEO of GBCC said, “We have consistently heard from our membership that a program like this would be welcomed. In the past, we would offer these randomly as topics came up. This year we are scheduling them into our annual plan of work to provide consistency. Our second program will have an economic development focus and will be held on May 11. More details will be out shortly.”

Kickoff featured speaker on February 24th is John Koskinen, chief economist for the Wisconsin Department of Revenue who will present Economic Forecast. Koskinen has served as chief economist for several administrations. His expert economic analysis has positioned him as an authority on Wisconsin’s economy. His detailed and visual presentations make it easy to understand the condition of Wisconsin’s economy and will broaden your understanding of Wisconsin’s economy.

Thank you to our sponsor TDS Telecom. Program will be at Paul Davis Restoration & Remodeling, W226 N918 Northmound Drive, Suite 100, Waukesha, WI 53186. Registration is $15.00 for GBCC members and $25.00 for guests.

By the numbers, the Greater Brookfield Chamber of Commerce provides the most programming in our area. GBCC is the leading business organization representing the interests of business in Brookfield and the surrounding area, recognizing the value in creating collaborative partnerships with chambers and business organizations in Milwaukee and Waukesha Counties. These partnerships expand the reach, influence, and visibility of the Greater Brookfield Chamber of Commerce and provide additional benefits to its membership.
