Apr. 5, 2023 - Whitefish Bay, WI - Following the results of the special election for Senate District 8, Jodi Habush Sinykin released the following statement.

“I am incredibly proud of this campaign, which from day one was focused on bringing people together and authentically representing the 8th Senate District. Unfortunately, we fell just shy of bringing home a victory for progress and fair representation, and I have called Rep. Knodl to concede the race.”

“This has been an incredible journey. In just four short months, we put together a campaign that came within 2 points of flipping a district that was unfairly gerrymandered to elect Republicans in every election. The fight to continue moving Wisconsin forward is not over. and I look forward to continuing to advocate for a brighter and fairer future for Wisconsin.”

Unofficially, Jodi Habush Sinykin received 49.10% of the vote in Senate District 8, 1,296 votes short of her Republican opponent Dan Knodl out of a total of 75,782 votes cast.
