STATEWIDE – Supreme Court candidate Justice Daniel Kelly will be making a four day Save the Court campaign tour starting Friday March 31.

Rallies and events are scheduled across the state including the following cities listed below.

Justice Kelly's message on this final tour before April 4 Election Date is simple but important. If you love the constitution and the rights and freedoms it protects, he is your candidate. The stark choice before our fellow Wisconsinites is this: Will we continue with our 175-year heritage of constitutional protection of our most cherished liberties, or will we trade all of that in for the Rule of Janet?

Janet Protasiewicz has promised she will use her personal values, her politics to force her agenda, and that of the out-of-state players who are backing her campaign, on everyone in the state. She intends to completely transform the State of Wisconsin, just as the activists said they would in a New York Times article from last summer.

Justice Kelly, on the other hand, understands that politics are poison to the work of the court, and if indulged would destroy the Rule of Law and leave our Constitution in pieces on the ground. That's why he is faithful to our fellow Wisconsinites' command to simply use the existing law to decide their cases, without reference to personal "values" or politics.

We must Save The Court from Janet and all those who would transform it into a tool with which to force their personal politics on everyone in this state. We cannot allow the Rule of Janet to overrule the Rule of Law. A vote for Justice Kelly is a vote for the Rule of Law.
