Milwaukee, WI – The MKE 2024 Host Committee is naming Alison Prange as the organization’s Chief of Staff and Senior Advisor. Prange, a longtime leader of successful nonprofit organizations nationally and in Wisconsin, will serve as the Host Committee’s top staffer. She will work alongside the group’s CEO Steve King and Chairman Reince Priebus to manage the day-to-day operations for the Host Committee.

“Alison has a breadth of experience leading successful nonprofit organizations and we are thrilled that she is working with us to help host a successful event in Milwaukee in 2024,” said MKE 2024 Host Committee CEO Steve King. “We will work directly with local leadership to welcome thousands of visitors to Milwaukee for the Republican National Convention and Alison will play a critical role in the event’s success.”

“This convention represents a generational opportunity to showcase Milwaukee and I am honored to serve a role in this effort,” said Prange. “We are ready to do everything necessary to be good and gracious hosts of the Republican National Convention next year and highlight everything great about its host city, Milwaukee.”

Previously, the MKE 2024 Host Committee launched its website, MKE2024Host.org, which will serve as the organizing hub for the committee as the convention approaches.
