WEST ALLIS – School Choice Wisconsin President Nicholas Kelly made the following statement after Governor Tony Evers signed into law the largest funding increase in the history of the state’s parental choice programs:

“This is a great day that is the result of months of hard work by parents, schools and supporters across the state. Wisconsin is a pioneer in parent choice, and these historic, bipartisan investments will help ensure that students have the high-quality educational options they deserve. We salute Speaker Vos, Majority Leader LeMahieu and Governor Evers for their commitment and leadership.”
