MADISON, wis. – Shauntay Nelson has announced her resignation from the Wisconsin Ethics Commission due to a new professional opportunity. She was first appointed by Senator Janet Bewley in 2021. Senate Democratic Leader Melissa Agard (D-Madison) released the following statement:

“I want to sincerely thank Shauntay for her time on the Ethics Commission. This sort of public service is a serious commitment and shows her character and desire to better our state. Shauntay has dedicated her career to voter access, education, and advocacy. Her voice on the Commission will be missed and I wish her well in her future endeavors.

“I am looking forward to appointing a new Commissioner in the near future who will carry on Shauntay’s work of holding our state government and elected officials to the highest ethical standards.”

The Ethics Commission administers and enforces Wisconsin law pertaining to campaign finance, lobbying, and the Code of Ethics.
