

The White House: Week ahead guidance for the week of February 6, 2023 - February 11, 2023

Posted on Monday, Feb 6, 2023

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

Monday, February 6, 2023

The President will return to the White House from Camp David.

Tuesday, February 7, 2023

The President will address the peoples' representatives in Congress at the State of the Union. He will speak with Republicans, Democrats, and the country about how we can work together to continue building an economy that works from the bottom up and the middle out, continue boosting our competitiveness in the world, keep the American people safe, and bring the country together. The Vice President, the First Lady, and the Second Gentleman will also attend.

Wednesday, February 8, 2023

The President will travel to the Madison area of Wisconsin. He will discuss how his economic plan is creating good-paying, union jobs and delivering real results for the American people.

Thursday, February 9, 2023

The President will travel to Tampa, Florida. He will discuss his plan to protect and strengthen Social Security and Medicare and lower healthcare costs.

Friday, February 10, 2023

The President and the Vice President will welcome the nation's Governors to the White House during the National Governors Association Winter Meeting. They will hear directly from the Governors about the impact of the Biden-Harris Administration's economic agenda on states across the country, and they will discuss opportunities for states to continue investing in infrastructure, manufacturing, workforce development, and lowering costs for working families, among other key priorities.

The President and the First Lady will welcome President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva and First Lady Rosângela Lula da Silva of Brazil to the White House to further strengthen the close relationship between the United States and Brazil.

The President will hold a bilateral meeting with President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva of Brazil. During their meeting at the White House, the two Presidents will discuss the United States' unwavering support of Brazil's democracy and how the two countries can continue to work together to address common challenges, including combatting climate change, safeguarding food security, encouraging economic development, strengthening peace and security, and managing regional migration.

Saturday, February 11, 2023

The President and the First Lady will welcome Governors and their spouses for a black-tie dinner at the White House. The Vice President and the Second Gentleman will attend.