MADISON, Wis. - With the 2024 election less than a year away, the Republican Party of Wisconsin is delivering on its promise to secure the vote. More than 5,000 Wisconsinites have signed up through the RPW to serve as poll workers for the next cycle. This marks a new modern record for election worker recruitment by the RPW with four times as many signups than in 2019 and surpassing the number for the 2022 midterm elections.

Election integrity is a critical issue for Wisconsin. Thanks to Republican efforts to engage everyday citizens in the voting process, real and proper oversight will be achieved at the ballot box next year.

“With more individuals signing up to serve as Republican poll watchers, Wisconsinites are determined to secure the vote through safe and fair elections and turn the page on the failures of Joe Biden and Tammy Baldwin.” —WisGOP Chairman Brian Schimming
