RHINELANDER, Wis. – The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds fish enthusiasts of the fisheries management meeting set to occur online and in person at the DNR's Rhinelander and Spooner service centers on Thursday, Feb. 12.

Join DNR staff at 6 p.m. for a presentation on the management of walleye and muskellunge in the ceded territories of northern Wisconsin and how the Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission (GLIFWC), six Wisconsin Ojibwe tribes and the DNR have cooperatively managed these fisheries for the past 35 years.

This meeting is a part of the DNR's northern fisheries management spotlight meeting series. Additional information, including virtual meeting information through Microsoft Teams, can be found on the DNR's Meetings & Hearings calendar.
