MADISON, Wis. – Judge Chris Taylor's campaign for the Wisconsin Supreme Court released its second TV ad of the election cycle, titled "Survivor." This ad is part of the campaign's previously-announced statewide TV and digital campaign and will begin airing today in the Madison, Milwaukee, La Crosse, Wausau, and Green Bay markets.

"Survivor" highlights Judge Taylor's record working with survivors of sexual assault and domestic violence and her efforts to strengthen protections for victims. Judge Taylor previously championed Wisconsin's Safe at Home legislation, which earned support from law enforcement, Republicans and Democrats in the legislature, and was signed into law by Gov. Scott Walker. Thanks to this legislation, victims of domestic violence are able to keep their home address confidential to protect themselves and their family.

The ad features a survivor sharing her own personal story and how Judge Taylor listened to her and championed laws that protect survivors and hold abusers accountable. As Supreme Court justice, Wisconsinites can count on Judge Taylor to uphold justice and keep our communities safe.

Transcript:

[Rebecca] I met my abuser when I was 10.

He was my Sunday school teacher.

At 18, I was pressured to marry him.

Chris Taylor was the first person to stand up for me.

She worked with both parties and with law enforcement to pass laws to protect survivors like me.

Chris listened and my abuser went to prison.

On the Supreme Court, Judge Chris Taylor will continue to protect Wisconsin.

[Narrator] Judge Chris Taylor. Protecting our rights, defending our freedoms.
