About the Schreiber Institute for Women's Leadership

UW-Green Bay's Schreiber Institute for Women's Leadership is dedicated to engaging, inspiring and empowering the next generation of women leaders to ensure a strong and equitable leadership pipeline. The University established the Institute in 2021, recognizing the region's growing need for a pipeline of women leaders and the distinct challenges faced by professional women in the workplace. The Institute is a comprehensive leadership resource committed to providing ongoing, forward-thinking networking, education and inspiration to support women as they rise.

The Institute presents wide-ranging programs, events, and research, benefiting women with access to experts and supportive networks. Leadership certificate programs, a monthly speaker's series featuring notable women throughout the area sharing their stories to leadership, monthly networking events, a women's mentorship program, an annual leadership retreat, workshops and discussion groups will be offered to support women's professional development needs. Equally important, the Institute works to increase communities' knowledge and awareness of issues related to women in leadership and advance new knowledge about women and leadership in the State of Wisconsin through benchmarking data on women in business and research about women and leadership.
