PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, WI. - More than 30 hours after the United States and Israel launched Operation Epic Fury, Rebecca Cooke has failed to offer a single comment on the major military developments shaping global security and the safety of the United States and the Free World.

Cooke's refusal to engage in one of the most consequential national security developments of our time shows a troubling lack of seriousness about the responsibilities of the office she is seeking.

"Where is Rebecca Cooke? More than 30 hours after the U.S. launched Operation Epic Fury, eliminating Ayatollah Khamenei in a move that's redefining global security and putting the safety of the United States front and center, she's completely silent. The likely explanation is as simple as it is damning: her depth of foreign policy experience is shallower than a kiddie pool." - Grace Kim, Campaign Spox
