Evers Hits Back at Misleading Republican Billboard with Politifact'd Billboard

MADISON – With over one month before the Democratic primary, Scott Walker and the Republican Party of Wisconsin released a new billboard in Green Bay and Milwaukee attacking gubernatorial candidate frontrunner Tony Evers. The billboard is based on an attack deemed “Mostly False” by Politifact last year, which also resulted in the GOP’s ads being pulled by radio stations in September. Evers has released a new billboard in those same communities refuting the Republican’s latest sleazy tactics.

“There’s only one person Scott Walker is afraid of and it’s Tony Evers. Tony has endured continued attacks by Walker and still continues to rise in the polls doubling his lead over the Democratic primary field. Only the Republican Party of Wisconsin would take Tony’s leadership working across the aisle to fix our broken laws and try to spin it as a negative. Actions speak louder than words and the Republicans are clearly running scared,” said Evers’ Campaign Manager Maggie Gau.
