Taylor WI- Democratic candidate for the 31st Senate District, Steve Boe released the following statement regarding the campaign's fundraising numbers as of June 30, 2018.

“I am thankful for the more than 200 donors that have contributed to support new leadership in western Wisconsin that have allowed this campaign to raise more than $36,000. Through contributions from friends, family, and supporters our message of electing new leadership that prioritizes public education, invests in infrastructure and works to strengthen our communities will reach voters from all across the district.”

The full finance report will be released on July 16, 2018.

Steve Boe is a Democratic candidate committed to promoting a progressive vision for the state of Wisconsin. Boe, 34, grew up on a dairy farm in western Jackson County and currently works to support farm families and rural communities across the state.
