FUGITIVE WILLIAM GUY RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES TO FACE FEDERAL AND STATE CRIMINAL CHARGES

MADISON, WIS. - Scott C. Blader, United States Attorney for the Western District of Wisconsin, announced that William Guy, 51, formerly of Madison, Wisconsin, appeared in federal court this morning, following his extradition from Austria.

Guy was arrested in Austria in April 2018 on federal charges of fraudulently obtaining a passport, and on numerous state charges. At the time of his arrest, he had been a fugitive for more than seven years. Guy fought extradition from Austria for almost a year, before finally being removed from the country this week. Magistrate Judge Stephen Crocker ordered Guy detained based on his flight risk, and set Guy's federal trial date for October 28, 2019.

In addition to the federal charges, Guy faces charges of possessing child pornography, stalking resulting in bodily harm, false imprisonment, identity theft, victim intimidation, second degree sexual assault, kidnapping, bail jumping, and numerous other charges in Dane County Circuit Court.

You are advised that a charge is merely an accusation and that a defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

The charges against Guy are the result of an investigation conducted by the United States Department of State, the United States Marshals Service, and the Madison Police Department. The prosecution of the federal case has been assigned to Assistant U.S. Attorney Elizabeth Altman. The prosecution of the state charges has been assigned to Assistant District Attorney Matthew Moeser.
