December Business Breakfast Bytes Focuses on Building Leaders in the Workplace

APPLETON, Wis. (November 12, 2019) – The Fox Cities Chamber’s monthly educational program, Business Breakfast Bytes, will feature ways to identify and build leaders in the workplace during the December session. Identifying and building leaders in the workplace can help create a positive workplace culture and improve employee retention.

Chris Czarnik, CEO of Career [RE]Search Group, will lead the session and facilitate the presentation in December. The presentation will feature highly experienced professionals on leadership development including: Thomas Feldhusen, Executive Adviser at Culture Index – Wisconsin; Matt Greely, Executive Vice President at McMAHON; and Julie Keller, Executive Director at The Women’s Fund.

"Leaders should be most visible in times of Crisis and least visible in times of Triumph," shared Czarnik.

This dynamic panel will provide their take on what it means to build leaders in the workplace, and how it can affect workplace culture and employee retention, especially when it comes to the millennial generation. Attendees will learn what traits to look for in their workplace leaders and how to build upon them. There will also be discussion on what is a leader and how the definition or traits might vary throughout industries, as well as ways to encourage female leaders in male dominated industries.
