Justice Kelly Launches First Radio Ad

[Madison, WI] – Today, Supreme Court Justice Daniel Kelly launched his first radio ad. The ad, titled “Fairy Tale,” takes aim at judicial activists who believe they can use the Court to impose their own personal agenda on the people of Wisconsin. It also highlights the stark contrast between Justice Kelly’s rule-of-law judicial philosophy and the judicial activism being pushed by his opponents. The spot is part of a six-figure ad buy and will run statewide from now until the February 18th primary.

You can listen to the radio ad here.

Transcript for “Fairy Tale” (:30)

Narrator 1: There once was an elitist group of judges in black robes who thought they knew best.

So they waved their gavels and decided that the law should mean whatever they wanted it to. The end.

Narrator 2: Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice Dan Kelly isn't is not one of those judges.

Justice Kelly is tough, fair, and he believes the law says what it means. Period.

On February 18th, let's send Justice Dan Kelly back to the Supreme Court.
