Rep. Macco Disappointed in Governor Evers' Decision to Veto Tax Relief Legislation

Madison...Rep. Macco released the following statement on Governor Evers' veto of Assembly Bill 910:

"The budget we passed this session included over $500 million in increased education funding. We've invested in our schools, our infrastructure, we've paid down state debt, and invested in the rainy day fund. After all of that, we are running a surplus and that belongs the taxpayers."

On Wednesday, Governor Evers vetoed AB 910 which would have provided an additional $250 million in income tax relief for Wisconsinites in the lowest tax brackets. The Republican tax relief proposal was aimed at Wisconsinites making $35,000 or less a year.

"It's disappointing that the Governor is unwilling to meet us half way. We increased education funding to record high levels this session and we were proud to do that. Then when it comes to helping low income Wisconsinites the Governor is unwilling to help," concluded Rep. Macco.
