GOP Weekly Radio Address: Speaker's Taskforce on Racial Disparities

Madison...Representative Jim Steineke (R-Kaukauna) discusses the work of the Speaker's Task Force on Racial Disparities..

Hi, I'm Assembly Majority Leader Jim Steineke with this week's State Republican Address.

It seems to me that all too often in politics, people like to focus only on the issues that divides us. But there are also just as many opportunities to find agreement. And in my role as the chairman of the Speaker's Taskforce on Racial Disparities, that's exactly what we do every day – work to find meaningful common ground.

While topics like race relations, educational reforms, and policing standards are often complex and challenging to discuss, I'm really proud of the bipartisan group we've assembled to examine the important issues. With folks from all walks of life at the table, our conversations have been productive and have shed light on a number of the hardships facing far too many of our neighbors across the state.

Now, with a meeting this week in Green Bay and more to come in the weeks ahead, I remain optimistic that this diverse and talented group of individuals will be able to put forth a number of thoughtful proposals for our legislature to consider in the weeks to come. If I've learned one thing in my time in Madison, it's that the best answers come when everyone has a seat at the table.
