Behnke wins 89th Assembly Primary

OCONTO - Outsider assembly candidate, Elijah Behnke, won the Republican primary election in the 89th assembly district, taking first in a five way primary. His win proves the power of hard work and grassroots support. Behnke had support from hard working families, farmers, business owners and many others from different backgrounds and from all corners of the district.

In a statement Elijah said, “I was not the big money candidate, I had no political experience and I took them down swinging. People saw our team put the most effort into this race. I was jogging to 100 houses per day. Hard work pays off and it’s that Wisconsin work ethic that will do me well in Madison.”

Elijah Behnke was born and raised in the 89th Assembly district. He is a man of faith, father, husband, outdoorsman, farmer and small business owner. Elijah is thankful for the help and encouragement of his friends, family, neighbors and supporters from across the district.

The 89th assembly district covers part of Brown, Marinette and Oconto counties. Behnke will face Democrat Karl Jaeger in the April 6th general election.
