Richland County Is Big Winner of Rural Broadband Expansion Grants

Six major rural broadband projects in 17th Senate District receive state funding

As you likely know, rural broadband expansion is one of my top priorities. The southwestern part of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission (PSC) for awarding $1.9 million for four Rural Broadband Expansion Grant projects in Richland County and two other projects in Sauk and Juneau counties during the 2021 grant cycle.

“I am thrilled that these grant funds will be going to areas that need it the most,” Sen. Marklein said. “The expansion into Richland County will make a huge difference for the families I represent and is exactly the intent for this grant program.”

The PSC awarded $28.4 million in grants for the 2021 grant cycle. Six projects were funded in communities of the 17th Senate District, including four in Richland County. In total, the 17th Senate District received $2,233,300 of the $28,431,738 awarded statewide.

“Rural broadband expansion is one of my top priorities,” Sen. Marklein said. “I work on this issue every day and seek ways to help communities and telecommunications providers find ways to serve those who are unserved in Wisconsin. We made a huge investment in broadband in the last budget and I am very pleased that the funding coming to the 17th Senate District will serve unserved areas that are desperate for connection.”

The grants to Richland County include the following projects:

Reedsburg Utility Commission – Highway 130 and Bear Valley Project

Total Project = $860,300

Grant Award = $327,000

Matching Funds = $533,000
