Attolles Law, s.c. Opens to Best Serve the Needs of Wisconsin Counties, School Districts and Public Entities

Bringing together leading attorneys to continue to best serve Wisconsin counties, school districts, public entities and businesses, Attolles Law, s.c. opened their doors this week in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

“We are incredibly excited to bring together this skilled team to meet the complex legal needs of counties, school districts and businesses here in our state,” said Attolles Law, s.c. President & CEO Andrew T. Phillips. “The depth of experience we bring is at the foundation of this firm and we are proud to continue our work alongside Wisconsin public entities.”

Attolles Law, s.c., led by attorney Andrew T. Phillips, will serve as outside general counsel to the Wisconsin Counties Association, a position Phillips has been privileged to hold for nearly 20 years.

The Attolles Law, s.c. team includes:

- Andrew T. Phillips, attorney, president and CEO
- Chrissy Hamiel, attorney
- Matthew Thome, attorney
- Jake Curtis, attorney
- Kylie Owens, attorney

Phillips concluded, “The business of government and the private sector is complicated and so many things have changed in the past two years and continue to evolve with the COVID-19 pandemic.
