Nathan M. Jurowski Announces Candidacy for Wisconsin's 21st Assembly District Fighting for us all against division and regressive policies

South Milwaukee, Wisconsin – Nathan M. Jurowski is running for the 21st Assembly District as a Democrat on a platform of community-based leadership. Throwing off the yoke of divisive politics, Nathan aims to help address real issues while staving off fear-based, regressive policies.

"The status quo of fear-based messaging has done much to damage our faith in democracy," said Candidate Jurowski. "We should be arguing over policy, not warring over politics."

Nathan's inclusive brand of politics ensures that kitchen table issues are addressed while guarding against regressive policies designed to villainize already marginalized community members. This means making sure our public schools have the resources necessary to produce a happy, healthy and engaged citizenry. It means protecting our labor force so that hard work actually guarantees access to the American Dream. And it means protecting our hard-won civil rights like access to the ballot box, marriage equality and reproductive rights.

"I've been out listening to my neighbors, they're tired of national politics and want to see someone who's got their back," said Jurowski. "I'm also energized by the mobilization against attacks on our fundamental rights and liberties."

Nathan is currently building his coalition of supporters, and has room on the campaign team for those who believe in democracy and want to fight against regressive, hate-filled policies. Candidate Nathan M. Jurowski lives with his wife in South Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where they chose to raise their three daughters and open his law practice. His thirteen years of legal experience includes Public Defender work, advancing unionized construction, and representing employees' rights. Nathan is engaged in the community, with years of volunteer experience and is an active member of the South Milwaukee Lions Club.
