Cottage Grove, Wis. – August 17, 2022 – The Greywolf Foundation has announced the 2nd Annual Curtis W. Blackdeer Memorial Golf Outing is slated for Thursday, September 1, 2022, at The Oaks Golf Course and BB Jack's Restaurant in Cottage Grove.

The annual fundraiser includes an online auction that is open to the public, a golf scramble at The Oaks Golf Course, and golf followed by a dinner reception at BB Jack's in Cottage Grove, that is also available for purchase to the public. Entertainment at the dinner reception will be provided by skyrocketing international country music recording artist Anthony Nix.

"After a successful inaugural event last year, we are looking forward to growing our primary fundraiser even more this year," said Andrew Haring, director of the Greywolf Foundation. "Our board of directors, as well as our event sponsors are the reason we're able to host this important event. The funds we raise go directly to support our mission – to improve the lives and opportunities of residents in our local communities."

The golf portion of the event is already sold out, however the Greywolf Foundation encourages the purchase of tickets to the dinner reception, which is $100 for a single ticket and $175 for two tickets, includes a dinner buffet and drinks, silent auction and raffle opportunities, live music performance from Anthony Nix, as well as a tax-deductible gift to the Greywolf Foundation. Tickets can be purchased on the event website, one.bidpal.net/gwfgolf2022/welcome, or by visiting www.greywolffoundation.org, or by calling 608-460-8688.
