DEAN MARTIN NEUBERT DECLINES TO FORCE A RECOUNT

[ELLINGTON, WI] Dean Martin Neubert announced that his campaign for the 6th Assembly District, will not be seeking a recount. Although the margin is within his right to do so, he did not want to put the municipal workers and the community through that process.

“I am humbled with the amount of support I have received by so many people in district 6 during and since the primary election. I do not think a recount is necessary at this time,” said Dean.

When asked about his future in politics Dean stated “I am not sure where God will lead me at this time. It was never my intent to be a politician from the start of this and that doesn’t change now. I entered this race to make this state and our community a better place for our children. If the opportunity presents itself to do that, my family and I will sit down and discuss what our next steps may be”.

On the subject of a write in campaign Neubert said, “With the recent uncovering of hidden reports about the declared winner I am troubled by the lack of honesty and integrity he has shown over the course of his campaign. He spent a substantial amount of money and resources covering up a record he did not want the voters to see. I am exploring options and have been encouraged by many community members to pursue a write in campaign. Write in campaigns are very difficult and would take the support of the entire community. If the support is there, my family and I will have to take it into serious consideration”
