RCC's 29th Annual Java Jive Fundraiser to Benefit Survivors – Food, Music & Community!

(MADISON, WI) – RCC Sexual Violence Resource Center (formerly known as the Rape Crisis Center) is excited to announce their annual fundraiser, Java Jive! The event will be held on Saturday, September 21st at Goodman Community Center - Brassworks from 10am to 1pm.

Join them for a morning of community and fun with featured food and drink from some of Madison's most beloved local bakeries, coffee shops and businesses. Emceeding the event will be longtime supporter and Magic98's Lanette Hansen, who will guide guests through treasured Java Jive traditions like the silent auction. Live acoustic Jazz by carisa, Richard Hildner Armacanqui & Nick Moran will be played throughout. Follow RCC on social media to get a sneak peak of auction items and be the first to bid as they become available!

All money raised during this event goes to supporting survivors of sexual violence and their loved ones. RCC offers lifesaving crisis intervention services, including 24-hour helplines in English & Spanish, medical & legal advocacy, youth & campus advocacy, support groups, and mental health therapy. They also provide youth and community with extensive sexual violence prevention education & programming as well as empowerment self-defense.

For information about sponsoring this event, donating silent auction items, or supporting free community education and services, contact bri.breunig@thercc.org.
