Good evening folks,
Received a call from Congressman Van Orden, who would like to speak with the governor to explain the provider tax situation regarding what will happen if the state budget is not signed before the reconciliation bill. I expressed that we were tracking but he was adamant about speaking with the governor.

Who do folks think would be best to follow-up with the congressman to let him know the governor is aware of this issue, be it someone here or the governor himself?

Congressman Van Orden's cell: [redacted]
