State Representative Christian Phelps Thanks Voters for Re-Election to State Assembly

[Eau Claire, Wis.] - State Representative Christian Phelps (D-Eau Claire) made the following statement on being re-elected to Wisconsin's 93rd Assembly District, per tonight's preliminary election results:

"I am honored to have been re-elected to Wisconsin's 93rd Assembly District. I thank every single voter and community leader who has participated in democracy, stood up for our shared values, and worked to make sure all of our neighbors can thrive. I would also like to thank my opponent for stepping up to put his name on the ballot and giving voters a choice.

"In my first term, I have leaned on my constituents to hold firm on key principles.

"I have stood up for public education, healthcare as a human right, union work, a clean and safe environment, and more.

"I have stood against every effort to privatize public services, every effort to impose state mandates on our public schools without funding, and every effort to expand incarceration instead of investing in communities and addressing the real causes of crime.

"I've done my best to say no to every dogwhistle, every charade, every unserious proposal.

"This work is not always easy, and certainly is not always politically convenient, but the courage and conviction of my constituents in the 93rd makes it possible.

"Tonight's results affirm that residents in the Chippewa Valley are ready for bold, aspirational politics. We want our state to deliver the best for our community–and to protect against the worst of the federal administration. We can lead with integrity and build relationships that allow us to work through disagreements while respecting the humanity of our neighbors. I am very excited to continue working with all of my constituents in my second term, to build an economy where no one in the Chippewa Valley is too poor to live.

"Thank you!"
