“A resounding victory for LGBTQ+ equality in Wisconsin”

Abigail Swetz, Executive Director of Fair Wisconsin, Wisconsin’s only statewide LGBTQ+ civil rights and political advocacy organization, issued the following statement regarding the outcome of the 2026 general election:

> “The votes are in and this election is a resounding victory for LGBTQ+ equality in Wisconsin, an unequivocal rejection of MAGA extremism, and a commitment to moving this state forward. Voters chose to elect pro-equality candidates up and down the ballot, including making history by electing Wisconsin’s first transgender person to serve in the state legislature, Dina Nina Martinez-Rutherford. The entire team at Fair Wisconsin is looking forward to working with a pro-equality majority in both chambers of Wisconsin’s legislature and pro-equality champion David Crowley as governor to build a welcoming, inclusive Wisconsin where LGBTQ+ Wisconsinites not only belong but have their rights protected by law. Thank you, Wisconsin voters! Let’s get to work!”
